

The rainbow serpent

A long time ago, the land was flat and dry.
There were no hills.
There were no trees.
There were no rivers.
There was a rainbow serpent.
She was sleeping.

One day, she wakes up.
She sneezes.
ATCHOOOO!
She makes clouds.

She slithers up and down.
She makes hills.

She slithers from left to right.
She makes tracks.

It rains.
Here is a river.
It rains again.
Here is a lake.

The grass grows.
The trees grow.
The flowers grow.
The humans are happy.

But, where is the serpent?
Look!
She is in the sky!
